

HAVE YOU SEEN US?

The State classifies all of these animals as rare species. If you find any of them, please call Conservation Manager Jane Sears Pierce right away at 508-282-6960, and take photos. If you are able to reach Jane quickly, please carefully hold onto the animal until she arrives, since she will come right out to document them. Documenting Foxborough's rare and endangered species will help to ensure that they are around for future generations to enjoy. Thank you!

Blanding's Turtle ~ has a bright yellow neck.

Box Turtle ~ can close shell up like a box for protection.

Wood Turtle ~ orange legs & wood-like design on shell.

Spadefoot Toad ~ none found yet, but we're looking!

Marbled Salamander ~ a chubby, 4 inch long salamander.

Blue Spotted Salamander ~ grows up to 5.5 inches long.

